

Alan S. Tilles

(M2009)

Alan Tilles is a partner at the Potomac, Maryland law firm Shulman Rogers Gandal Pordy & Ecker. Mr. Tilles is Chairman of the Firm's Telecommunications Department. He is counsel to numerous entities in the private radio. His breadth of work includes representing PCIA, a major telecommunications trade association. On behalf of PCIA and other clients, Mr. Tilles has participated in every FCC proceeding involving the private land mobile radio industry since 1984. In addition, he represents hundreds of public safety agencies (States, Counties and Cities), transit systems, Specialized Mobile Radio (SMR) operators, private system users (including major airlines and utilities), tower owners and radio manufacturers. A former college adjunct professor, he is on the Board of Trustees of Capitol College (an engineering college in Maryland).

POSITION STATEMENT

For many years, I have watched the people that I admire most in the wireless industry contribute their time and energy to advancing the interests of the industry. Now, I am honored to be asked to do the same. As a member of the Board of Trustees at Capitol College, I have sought to expand education in radio to a new generation that are primarily used to talking about IP addresses. I hope to continue that effort with the Radio Club.
