

Free Commemorative Code Practice Oscillator

If You Donate to the RCA Youth Program

We all know that students today are often more interested in computers than wireless. As a result, the future of wireless depends on getting more youth interested in wireless.

Here is a great opportunity to support our RCA Youth Program under Director Carole Perry, and obtain a free gift as a result. Carole has been driving our Youth Program for 30 years this year! As a surprise to her, Director Charles Kirmuss had made a CW Morse code practice oscillator that was the same design that Carole had used years before with her early amateur radio classes with middle school and high school.

If you donate at least $30.00 to Carole's RCA Youth Program, you will be mailed a commemorative code practice oscillator. Your donation will be used to assist with costs like awards to the children, materials to be donated to school radio clubs, travel expenses for youth presenters to the Technical Symptom, etc.

In addition, if you renew your RCA membership for 3 years, you will also receive a code practice oscillator.

If you have interest in donating to the Youth Program, please email Director Carole Perry directly (wb2mgp@gmail.com) and she will provide instructions as to how to send a check.

If you wish to renew your membership for 3 years, contact Colleen Ayers (colleen@radioclubofamerica.org) for details on getting the code practice oscillator.
